

INTERURBAN WILL BE INVESTIGATED

Oklahoma & Electric Railway Proposition Is Considered.

A ROUSING MEETING

Chamber of Commerce Takes Action on Important Questions.

A thorough investigation will be made of the project to build an interurban line from Columbus, Kan., to Tulsa, Okla., which the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce has already decided to refer to the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce for its consideration. The proposition of the Oklahoma & Electric Railway Co. was presented to the open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night and after a thorough discussion it was decided to refer the proposition to a committee of prominent Tulsans and give the promoters a final answer on Wednesday, May 3.

John R. Ross, president of the chamber, submitted to the meeting a written proposition, in which he offered to make Tulsa the terminus of the proposed extensive interurban system, bonds for the construction of which he has already sold to eastern parties. He asked that the Chamber of Commerce give the road a cash bonus of $100,000, a ten-acre site for yards and shops, a downtown site for a terminal and general office building, and the right-of-way from Tulsa to Collinsville. He made the further provision that local people should subscribe to $7,500 worth of the construction company's stock.

Another Route. H. D. Pates of Tulsa stated that he and associates had quietly been surveying an interurban route to Coweta and were planning to go ahead with the construction of the road without bonus or bonds.

Howard E. Huse, of Kansas City, who is interested in building the proposed new interurban terminal station in that city, chanced to be in the city yesterday and dropped in at last night's meeting. He was introduced by Chairman Frank Greer. Mr. Huse spoke of the value of interurbans to a city, citing Los Angeles and Indianapolis as shining examples. He said he believed Tulsa could be made the hub of a great interurban system and expressed the belief that some day interurban sleepers would be running from Tulsa to Kansas City.

John D. Mitchell, president and general manager of the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce, introduced his willingness to subscribe to a bonus for any reputable enterprise of that nature.

Secretary F. O. Tithum pointed out that this was the biggest question that ever confronted the Chamber of Commerce and meant everything to the future of Tulsa.

To Avoid Dandruff

You do not want a slow treatment when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay means no hair.

Get, at any drug store, a bottle of Zemo for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is sure and safe, is not greasy, is easy to use and will not stain. Soap and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The best thing to use is Zemo, for it is pure and also inexpensive.

MAP SHOWING DETAILS OF THE HUNT FOR VILLA

Satevo (a) has been entered and passed by United States troops in pursuit of the Mexican bandit who is reported at La Boquilla (b) and heading for Parral (c). A battle with Villa followers is reported at Cieneguilla (d).

Jones, Frank H. Greer and others also spoke. It was a representative meeting. The assembly room was filled to capacity and some of the city's biggest men were present. It was evident that the moneyed interests of the city have awakened to the fact that plans must be laid now for the future cementing of Tulsa and her surrounding territory.

Strong Committee. The chairman appointed a special committee of leading members to investigate the Columbus-Tulsa matter so that they might intelligently act on the proposition on May 3. The committee consists of J. W. Sanders, George D. Carney, E. N. Adams, I. C. Rosser, L. L. Selek, John O. Mitchell, M. C. Hale, O. H. Leonard, H. D. Mason, J. E. Crossie, Charles Page and Grant C. Stebbins.

Previous to taking up the interurban question the chamber voted on two important referendum propositions submitted by the chamber of commerce of the United States, with which the local organization is affiliated.

They voted in favor of federal aid of vocational institutions. This plan is to have the government give an equal amount for vocational training to that appropriated by each of the states of the union. An affirmative vote was taken in favor of the Stevens bill, which would enable manufacturers of standard or "trade-mark" products to fix a universal price on their products and compel retailers to adhere to that price, save in certain cases, such as bankrupt sales, etc.

BRITISH LOSE 3,000 IN BATTLE

Mesopotamia Engagement Disastrous.

Turks Put Russians to Flight

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 14.—(Via London, 12:05 p. m.)—The following official statement was issued today:

"A force of Persian warriors and Turkish detachments on April 8 attacked British cavalry, some three regiments strong, near Sushlak and put it to flight in the direction of Urmiyah (Persian Armenia). Otherwise there were no important engagements."

Another official communication contains a refutation of the statement that the British lost three thousand men, killed in the recent battle in Mesopotamia. It follows:

"The three thousand dead from the battle which occurred April 7 on the track fronted, as is indicated by their uniforms, to Kitchener's Thirteenth division, most of them from two brigades. In this battle, which we have already reported, which was very favorably for us, we lost 79 killed, 168 wounded and nine missing."

Lieutenant-General Sir Percy Lake, commander of the British forces in Mesopotamia, reported that the number of British killed or wounded in the recent unsuccessful attack on the Turks at Sannayyat was much below three thousand.

NAME RIVER BOARD OF TULSA SECTION

George D. Carney Made Vice-President of District Association.

At the annual meeting of the Arkansas River Improvement association, held in the city of Muskogee March 2, George D. Carney, secretary of the Tulsa Glass company and president of the Tulsa Traffic association, was elected vice-president of the Tulsa district. There are six districts in the organization, composed of the following: Pine Bluff, Little Rock, Dardanelle, Fort Smith, Muskogee and Tulsa. Each district has a vice-president and also a board of governors consisting of ten of the prominent business men who are interested in river navigation.

Vice-President Carney has made the appointments of the board for this district which is composed of the following: J. H. McEwen, president of the McEwen Manufacturing company and president of the Chamber of Commerce; J. W. Sanders, vice-president of the Tulsa-Tulsa Glass company; A. J. Ruff, secretary-treasurer of the Upp Grocery company; H. P. Lower, general sales manager of the Oklahoma Iron Works; H. W. Roe, traffic manager Caden & Co.; J. M. Barry, vice-president of the Central National bank; C. V. Harlow, president of the Harlow Dry Goods company; Lee Kunsman, of the Globe Clothing company; C. L. Holland and E. N. Adams, secretaries and traffic managers of the Tulsa Traffic association. The president of the organization is H. H. Ogden, president of the First National Bank at Muskogee.

Not "Pork Barrel."

Appropriations for improvements of the inland waterways of the United States might be termed "pork barrel" propositions by some people, but it must be understood by the thinking business men that the inland waterways of this country will have to be developed some day just as they are in Germany. Again, we will continue to have overflows from these rivers until the said rivers are improved, which will eliminate these overflows. The damage by reason of these overflows will amount to enough in ten years to make the Arkansas river a navigable stream from its source to its mouth. Only several millions of dollars have been spent this year by reason of damage to crops and property. These appropriations should not be termed "pork barrel" propositions, especially by people located right where the money is wanted, if we ever expect to get any improvements on the river. This matter should be boosted to the limit by every business man in every city along the Arkansas river and if that is done the river can be made more money in which to make improvements which are a necessity, not only from a navigation point of view, but from necessity to save the states of Oklahoma and Arkansas millions of dollars caused by these overflows of water every year.

Home Talent. A man from "up state" had gone to a theater in New York. In an interval between the acts he turned to the metropolitan who had the seat next to him.

"Where do all them troopers come from?" he inquired.

"I don't think I understand," said the city dweller.

"I mean them actors up yonder on the stage," explained the man from the state.

"Was they brought on specially for this show or do they live here?"

"I believe most of them live here in town," said the New Yorker.

"Well, they do partly blame well for home talent," said the stranger.

LADIES' NIGHT FOR ROTARY IS MAY 24

Wives and Sweethearts of Rotarians Will Be Guests of Honor.

C. J. Friedman, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Rotary club, announced yesterday that the annual ladies' night on the club would this year occur on Wednesday, May 24.

This will be the second annual ladies' night for the local club and the committee in charge is determined to make it an occasion that will live long in the memory of those present. It will be held in the main dining room of Hotel Tulsa, starting at 6 o'clock p. m. The entertainment features will be unique.

The Rotarians themselves have a big time every week in the year but it is only once in every twelve months that the ladies are enabled to share in the fun, and in their honor the banquet, May 24, will be held the most elaborate and hilarious event yet staged under the auspices of Tulsa Rotary.

OFFERS REWARD FOR UNOBTAINED Governor Williams Wants Scott Howard Captured.

Special to the World. OKLAHOMA CITY, April 14.—For his capture and conviction, Governor Williams today offered a reward for Scott Howard, who on February 21, 1915, shot and killed his wife, Klowna county, then escaped. The governor is offering $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the man, and the usual provision of the law, are allowed. If it becomes necessary to kill the man in effecting his capture the reward will be paid.

Midland Valley Head Likes Tulsa

President Ingersoll Stops Off Here; Is Pleased With City.

"If you are away from Tulsa a week you will notice an improvement when you return," declared C. E. Ingersoll, president of the Midland Valley railroad, who arrived here yesterday. The assertion was made in answer to a question as to whether or not he could see any change in the metropolis since his last visit in November.

Mr. Ingersoll is active head of the road, and is making his regular tour of the system, having come here from Muskogee. His home is in Philadelphia, Pa.

He has been coming to Tulsa ever since the building of the road through this city and has kept an impartial eye on its growth as compared with that of other cities in the southwest. His last stop was in November before he began his upward trend and he was delighted with the transformed city which met his eyes yesterday.

"Did you ever see as good a city as Tulsa?" was asked him abruptly, but he came back immediately "Never!"

"This is the fastest growing town in the southwest and it is the most interesting place I have ever visited."

He spoke of the scene in the lobby of the Hotel Tulsa, crowded with men from every clime, as a picture that would compare favorably with any metropolitan city in the east.

There seems to be no special significance attached to his visit here and beyond a general approval of conditions, Mr. Ingersoll could make no announcements concerning the activities of the road in Tulsa. No improvements are contemplated in the near future.

In speaking of the division shops which were recently destroyed by fire in Muskogee, he admitted that Tulsa would be a more advantageous place for the new ones, but said he felt that the road must live up to an old agreement made with the city of Muskogee and rebuild the shops there.

Mr. Ingersoll will leave today.

Sisal Shortage Wont Effect Will Carry Out Plans For Binder Twine Plant at Penitentiary

Special to the World. OKLAHOMA CITY, April 14.—The reported shortage of sisal will have no effect on the proposition of establishing a binder twine plant at the state penitentiary, according to members of the state board of affairs, because by the time the plant is ready for operation conditions will have materially changed. It will be a year before any of the product can be manufactured at the plant, as the appropriation made by the special session of the legislature only contemplated the erection and equipment of the plant. It is the intention of the board of affairs to proceed as rapidly as possible with the erection of the plant. Sisal, which is used in the manufacture of binder twine, grows abundantly in Mexico, and it is believed when the internal warfare in that country is stopped the material may be produced in quantities sufficient to insure the procurement of any amount needed.
